

The Captured Africans.

Dispatches from Captain Chancy.—The Secretary of the Navy has received dispatches, dated at Porto Grande, Island of St. Vincent, October 22d, from Captain Chancy, of the United States steam frigate Niagara, which sailed from Charleston with the captured Africans. Forty-five of them had died from the time of receiving them on board at the latter port. The Niagara put into Porto Grande to obtain a supply of coal, and intended to sail again on the 23d ult. After landing the negroes on the coast of Africa the vessel would stop at Monrovia for coal and return direct to the United States. The officers and crew were in the enjoyment of perfect health.

Dr. Ranney, the agent, says:—They are extremely ill, and much prefer audy to dress. We have adopted the plan of having a large box turned on them twice per week, with strong men at the engine. They appear well enough satisfied with the bath, but cannot, even by the lash, which we are compelled to employ freely, be made to observe any other sanitary or decent habit. It requires a good large crew of men to keep the spruce deck, where they are located, clean.

When clothing was put on them in Charleston, of which the slaves in the city contributed several dry loads, they immediately tore it off and rolled it in the sand and baked in the sun. I know but few cases in which they manifest any sympathy for one another, except to help scratch each other's backs. They give no attention or sympathy whatever to the sick and dying. When one is dead the body may lie for hours among them in immediate contact, yet unnoticed. But as soon as the soul has fled, they steal the blanket of the deceased and most unceremoniously proceed to appropriate his bread, spoon and bag. During the process of burial, they never manifest the slightest concern. A more cold, brutalized, pitiable set of beings I never beheld.

This statement is confirmed by the official dispatch of Capt. Chancy.

Babies in the Wood.

A correspondent of the Concord (N. H.) Congregational Journal, writing from Stewartstown, (N. H.) states that on the 26th of October John Brown, Jr., thirteen years old, accompanied by William Brown, a lad of nine years, were sent into the woods at Haverford, Canada, by the father of the first lad, who had just removed thither from Clebrook, (N. H.) to gather a basket of moss with which to stop the crevices between the logs of their new house. Night came, but the boys did not return. Until morning the parents passed the night in unavailing search. Next day from fifty to one hundred men from the neighboring towns roamed the woods until night, with no better success. Two cold nights had passed and no tidings of the lost ones had reached the anxious parents. Thursday morning an increased number resumed the search, and continued it during the day with no better success. Friday and Saturday were spent in the same manner. On Sunday a fresh start was taken, which resulted in the discovery of the children. The elder lad, on perceiving their approach, started up from the side of the other and made an attempt to run. On being told to stop, for they would catch him, he obeyed, saying, "Don't hurt me, I have been in the woods all night." The younger was sleeping at the foot of a small tree, with one arm around it; his arm was stiff and cold, and it was with difficulty and caution that it could be straightened so as to unloose its hold. The hand was black, and so were the feet; and the latter so swelled that the boots had to be cut before they could be stripped off. The boys were found only about two and a half miles from the house of Mr. Brown. They seemed not to be aware that they had been out more than one night, and were probably partially deranged after the first night. They had eaten nothing during the whole five days.

A Midnight Chase.

A somewhat singular circumstance occurred one night last week, which we have heard related as follows: A party of three or four gentlemen were sitting cozily about the stove at the Coopersburg Hotel, in this county, during one of the darkest nights of the past week, discussing various topics to while away the hour. In this way the time passed on until the clock told the approach of midnight. This being the mysterious hour at which Shakespeare tells us "ghosts walk the earth," and weird spirits appear, our friends began to prepare for retiring each to his sleeping apartment; when suddenly they were startled by a loud noise resembling the shriek of a locomotive. This was followed in a moment after by a heavy racing tramp not unlike the bustling of an army, in front of the house on the old Philadelphia road. They hastened outside, but finding it impossible to distinguish any object in the dense darkness, they resolved to give chase. On, on, they sped until they arrived at Bethlehem, a distance of five or six miles, when they ascertained the whole cause of the row to be nothing more or less than that about a hundred head of fat cattle, frightened by the shriek of a locomotive on the North Pennsylvania Railroad, had broken out of their enclosures and ran away. Thanks to the late hours of our Coopersburg friends, none of the cattle were lost, but were all again safely returned to the field, after a fatiguing chase, which doubtless added to the slumbers of the pursuing party.—Allentown Democrat.

Sale of the "Eminent Sportsman's" Furniture at Washington.—The name of the "eminent sportsman" recently deceased at Washington, of whose gambling establishment we gave a long account, was E. H. Pendleton. On Thursday there is to be a sale at "the establishment" of his furniture. The catalogue embraces 700 ounces of solid silver wares, goblets, pitchers, butter tins, knives, forks, spoons, &c., with "heavily plated wares, pitchers, covered dishes, tureens, champagne coolers, castors, glass boxes," &c. B. Newton and cut glass, Chinese punch bowls, Japanese table linen, and other appliances, show that the politicians plucked in "fighting the tiger" were daintily fed. It is whispered that there will be as great a scramble for the obnoxious table as there was for the desks and seats of the old Hall. Could they speak, they could tell some strange tales of some of our Ohio members.—Cincinnati Courier.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, NOV. 29, 1859.

GEORGE SWORE, Esq., has been re-elected President of the Bank of Gettysburg, and T. D. CARSON, Cashier.

Fresh Goods.

Mr. SCURCK has just received a fresh supply of very desirable Goods. Call and see them.

The Lutheran Congregation at Middletown, Frederick county, Md., are about to erect a large Church edifice, at a cost of about $15,000. The Messrs. Christmans, of this borough, have secured the contract.

Properties Sold.

The brick dwelling-house and lot, formerly of Mr. H. Dawidda, on Baltimore street, has been purchased by the Vestry of St. James' Church, as a parsonage, for $1,750.

The brick dwelling of Mr. Clippinger, two or three doors south of the above, has been purchased by S. Withers, for $1,270.

Abraham Scott, Esq. of Cashtown, has disposed of his pleasant property there, to Maj. Jacob Mark, of the same place, for $1,250. Mr. Scott, having purchased the property of Rev. Mr. Keller, opposite the Eagle Hotel, on Washington street, will become one of our citizens in the Spring, with the view of commencing the mercantile business.

Rev. Dr. Schumucker has disposed of the story brick house on Chambersburg street, opposite the Lutheran Church, to Major John Scott, for $1,400.

Mr. Cornelius Daugherty recently sold his property in Hamilton township, 18 acres of land, with improvements, to Catherine Stoner—price $1,000, cash.

Mr. James Foster has disposed of his property in Mountpleasant township, 31 acres, with improvements, for $4,200.

The McPherson Farm, in Cumberland township, purchased a few months since by James J. Wills, Esq., has been sold by him to Mr. Harman, of the District of Columbia, at a clear profit of $2,000—Mr. Wills paying about $3,100, and Mr. Harman about $5,100.

Mr. John Hoke has sold a House and Lot, in Hamilton township, for $200. Jonas Hammonds purchaser.

Painful Accident.

We regret to learn that our friend JOSEPH J. SMITH, of Oxford township, who was so seriously hurt a few years ago, by a wagon running over one of his legs, breaking it in two places, and rendering him lame for life, met with another serious accident on the 18th inst., from a threshing machine. His foot was caught in the power, and before it could be extricated, was dreadfully mashed. We sympathize very much with him.

The Railroad.

It is now "a fixed fact," that we have a Railroad in Gettysburg. The rails are laid for some distance within the Borough limits—and the "Iron Horse" has been making music west of Rock creek. On Friday, hundreds of our citizens witnessed its advent on this side of the Bridge. Every thing is going on actively, and we presume this week will not elapse until the rails are laid to the Depot, unless the present storm should prevent work.

The Engine-house, Freight Depot, and the Turn-table are up, and the convenient and (to be) handsome Passenger Depot is being pushed on with a heavy force, and will be up in a few days, if the weather permit.

The Court-house is under cover, and the enterprising contractor, Mr. TURNER, is putting a face and front upon it, which, we think, will please.

The Hon. Henry Biediger, Ex-Minister to Denmark, who has just returned from that country, and partook of a complimentary dinner at Shepherdstown, Va., tendered to him a few days ago, by his fellow-citizens, without respect to party, died very suddenly at his residence in Shepherdstown, on Friday morning.

DEATH OF HON. JONATHAN KNIGHT.

We learn, with regret from the Washington Post, that Hon. Jonathan Knight died at his residence on Tuesday morning last. Mr. Knight was elected to Congress from the 20th district in 1854, and was one of the most popular members of that body.

WM. MEYER, Esq., has been elected President of the Bank of Chambersburg, in the room of Mr. Culbertson, deceased.

Richard Parker has been elected President of the Carlisle Deposit Bank, Wm. M. Beaman, Cashier, and J. P. Hassler Assistant.

A dispatch from Chicago on Wednesday last, says that the Hon. Thomas L. Harris, Representative in Congress of the sixth district of Illinois, died that morning, of consumption.

Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant, of Hartford, Conn., furnished fifty poor families with turkeys and pies for a Thanksgiving dinner.

THE CEMETERY.

The steady progress made in the adornment of River Green Cemetery must be a source of high gratification to the citizens of our town and surrounding country.

The many hundreds of trees upon the ground, in fine growing condition, embrace rare varieties, native and imported, and new ones are frequently added. A number of exceedingly beautiful evergreens recently set out are attracting much attention.

Several costly monuments already grace this "God's Acre," and others are in progress and in contemplation for erection between this time and next spring.

In putting up lot enclosures an astonishing degree of enterprise has been manifested. In strolling over the ground, the other day, we made a note of the iron fencing already there, to which more will be added as the season may permit for outdoor work. The names upon the gates to enclosures on Evergreen Avenue are: Peter Haffensperger, Henry Culp, Juliana Hoke, Elizabeth Culp, William Culp, Z. Herbert, J. S. Crawford, S. H. Giesy, F. A. Mullenberg, S. S. Schumucker, J. Myers, A. Koser, Jr. on Vault Avenue, Joel B. Danner, George Walter, H. S. Huber, J. L. Hill, Neal's, G. C. Strickhouser, A. Schick, M. Jacobs, Penna. College, Theol. Seminary, on Saxum Avenue, D. McCaughy, M. L. Stever, Moses McClellan, C. P. Krauth, H. J. Stahl, J. T. Bayly, J. P. M. and J. G. Frey, J. and J. Swisher, D. G. Salzgiver, R. G. Harper, V. McIlhenny, D. D. Paxton, George Smyser, Gettys Lodge No. 124 I. O. O. F., Fahnstock, S. H. Baehler, Mary Myers, John Bankel, J. B. Livingston, S. J. Weitz, on Mountain-view Avenue, I. R. and R. Smith, J. and G. Bonner, C. Snyder, Josiah Banner, John Scott, G. Shryock, A. Polley, D. McCreary, S. McCreary, J. Houch, Macfarlane, on Hillside Avenue, J. B. McPherson, George Little, E. W. Stahl, W. W. Paxton, T. J. Cooper, on Chapel Avenue, A. R. Stevenson, in the interior of Area G., L. Schick, John Gilbert, Dr. C. and R. Horner, G. Arnold, N. P. and S. Weaver, Martha W. Fulton, in the interior of Area D., J. Pierce. A chain enclosure has been put up by Isaac Neely, and we understand that Geo. and Henry Christman intend to have their ground enclosed shortly with brown-stone pillars connected by galvanized iron bars—a style which we think will be admired.—Compiler.

Sudden Death.

We are pained to learn that on Tuesday the 16th inst., at the Calcedonia Furnace, Mr. Jeremiah Wilders met with an accident by which he was so severely injured as to result in his death the next morning. It appears that as he was engaged in nailing up a board over head, he raised and rested his foot on a latch, and while in the act of driving a nail, the latch broke, precipitating him head foremost some four or five feet below, and his head striking against a beam or heavy piece of timber, he received the fatal injury.

Mr. W. was an excellent, sober and industrious citizen, and has been engaged about the Calcedonia Works for more than 20 years. He was in his 57th year, and leaves a wife and four children to mourn their sad and sudden bereavement.—Repro.

An old colored woman, named B. con, died in Fulton township, Lancaster Co., week before last, aged upwards of eighty years! She was the mother of twenty-seven children!

We knew a lady, formerly a resident of this county, says the Frank in Repository, who was the mother of twenty-five sons, and at the time of rearing them in this county to the West, were all living, hearty and robust. The parents were poor and the children, in consequence, were thinly clad and poorly fed, but in being deprived of the luxuries upon which many others are fed, they also escaped the ills that a pampered life is heir to. They would frequently in the winter hunt rabbits for a day through the pines, perfectly barefooted, and to take a bath they were known to cut open the ice on a dam in the vicinity of their residences and plunge in. The tenement, if such it could be called, in which they resided, was much dilapidated and very open; and on their going to the West they moved into a close and comfortable log dwelling, but not proving sufficiently airy for these nature's noblemen, a large portion of the chinking and mortar between the logs was knocked out to obtain a better ventilation. We have not heard from them lately, but doubtless such children would be able to get along in the wilds of the West.

Free Persons Sold as Slaves in Maryland.—Three colored persons were tried and convicted last week in the Circuit Court of Frederick county, Md., of the crime of enticing slaves to run away from their masters. The Citizen says:—"They were sentenced by the court, in accordance with a law recently passed by the Legislature, to be sold out of the State as slaves for life. The proceeds of the sale to be applied—first, to cost of prosecution; secondly, to indemnify the masters of the runaways for their loss; and the balance, if any, to be given to the families of the convicted parties."

The aggregate Republican vote in Illinois is 123,275, against 96,180 for Fremont in '56. The increase is therefore 27,095, or about 30 per cent!

The Indiana Senators.—INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24.—The Senate have passed a resolution—twenty-six against twenty-two—declaring the election of Messrs. Bright and Fitch, United States Senators, illegal, unconstitutional, and void.—The same resolution is pending in the House of Representatives. [It will be recollected that the Senate of the United States, at the last session, decided this question in favor of Messrs. Bright and Fitch.]

P. S. The House of Representatives of Indiana, on Friday last, by a vote of 51 to 45, passed the resolution of the Senate—so that the matter of their election is presumed to be settled, adverse to those gentlemen.

Our Prospects.—Last year, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, casting 69 electoral votes, went Democratic, while Ohio, Wisconsin and Connecticut, choosing 34 more electors, were very nearly tied.—These States together choose more than half the electors to which the Free States are entitled. At the elections of 1858, not a single Free State but California has been carried by the Sham Democracy—Indiana is apparently balanced, but the Republicans have the advantage. The Republicans and those allied with them have carried them all; their electoral vote being sufficient to elect a President and have a good many to spare. Only blundering folly can prevent our winning a glorious victory in 1860.—Tribune.

Death of Dr. Constock.—Dr. John I. Constock, widely known as the author of valuable text-books on Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, &c., died at Hartford, Conn., on Sunday, November 21. He was a native of Lyme, Conn., served in the war of 1812, and devoted many years to the preparation of school-books. His "Natural Philosophy" had a sale of half a million of copies.

Snow at the North.—On Monday and Tuesday snow fell at Birmingham, N. Y., to the depth of 15 inches, and at Chester, Pa., to seven inches. All along the Hudson river, from Poughkeepsie to Albany, it was four inches deep, affording fine sleighing. At Saratoga the snow was 8 inches deep, and in various sections of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine, from 3 to 6 inches.

To be Hung.—Henry Gambrill, convicted at Baltimore of the murder of police officer Burton, was on Wednesday sentenced to expiate his offence upon the scaffold. Gambrill is young and in the first blush of manhood. His years scarcely exceed twenty-one, yet thus early in life he is doomed to pay the penalty of his infraction of the laws of God and man.

Franklin Railroad.—We see it stated that the Maryland portion of this road has again been sold to Messrs. Dill & Worrell, of Harrisburg, Pa., who have paid one-third of the purchase money in cash, and entered into security for the remainder.

Civilization and Pork.

In the report of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, is the following remarkable passage:

"It is hoped that, as civilization progresses, pork, as an article of diet, will fall into disuse; it must be gratifying to every philanthropist to learn that in Ohio there is certainly a great decline in the use of it as an article of food."

What effect the use of pork may have upon the manners of a nation, we are not able to say; but we have the authority of an intelligent physician for asserting that people who do not eat pork are not troubled with scrofula.

The Poor of Philadelphia.

It costs something to keep the poor of Philadelphia. At a recent meeting of the Guardians, an estimate was made for the year 1859, of which the following are the principal items:

Flour and meal, $20,800; beef, mutton and pork, $30,500; tea and coffee, $7,000; brown sugar, $730; rice, $2,150; butter, $2,850; molasses, $3,100; potatoes and beans, $3,100; marketing, $1,000; drugs, &c., $6,500; tobacco, $1,700; gas, $3,150; coal for the house, $10,000; wood for do., $1,700; support to bastards, $10,000; carriage hire for members, $1,925; wages on pay roll, $12,706.

A Pennsylvania Prize Fighter.—Mr. George Washington Rainsnyder, of Pottsville, Pa., has accepted Tom Foy's challenge to fight any man in the world for $10,000.

Peterson & Brothers, No. 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, have just issued a very interesting work, by Frederick Bremer, entitled "The Four Sisters." It is very highly spoken of by those who have perused it. The Saturday Evening Post says:

"We would advise all of our readers to obtain it and read it. Peterson & Brothers will send a bound copy of it to any one, per mail, free of postage, on sending $1.25 in a letter to them."

There are well executed counterfeit $10 notes on the Bank of Chambersburg in circulation. In the genuine the President's name is spelled Jos. Culbertson; in the spurious it is spelled Culbertson.

On Saturday night week, a champagne lamp exploded at Meyer's lager-beer brewery, in Hanover, and a gentleman named Smith very narrowly escaped injury. Great care should be taken with this dangerous fluid.

EAST BERLIN, Nov. 17, 1858.

Pursuant to notice, the members of the "Berlin Beneficial Association" met, and the following Resolutions were offered, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Association laments the death of our friend, and sympathizes with the family and friends of the deceased.

Resolved, That the members of this Association wear a badge of mourning for thirty days, in token of respect to the memory of the deceased.

Resolved, As a further token of respect, that the Members of this Association meet at the house of mourning, and accompany the funeral to the place of burial.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Innovator and Gettysburg papers, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

JACOB B. BAUGHMAN,
J. J. KUHN,
F. S. HILDEBRAND,
Committee.

Douglas.

It is determined, says the German Town Telegraph, that Mr. Douglas' "progress" from Illinois to Washington shall be marked with distinguished evidences of enthusiasm. At New York great preparations are making for his reception. But Baltimore, on the threshold of the Federal city, is to be the point where the greatest demonstration is to be expected in behalf of the Little Giant. There, among other things to be done, a banquet is to come off, to be participated in by three thousand persons, the principal movers of it being those who are regarded as the original friends and supporters of Mr. Buchanan. Indeed, all the indications as to the future course of Mr. Douglas, is to the effect that he will act quite independently of the Administration; and if reconciliation is desired on the part of the Administration, they must submit unconditionally to him.

The Hostile Indians.

The Washington Union, of Friday, has an article defining the course the Administration has resolved upon in reference to the hostile Indian tribes. It is the purpose of the War Department to adopt the same line of policy against the Camanches of North Texas, and the not less formidable Navajos of New Mexico, that has been adopted with so much success in Washington and Oregon Territories; that is, instead of posting troops along the whole line of white settlements to watch out for the savage and to repel, as well as they can in their dispersed condition, his stealthy assaults upon the settlers, to concentrate the troops, assume the aggressive, and carry the war home into the heart of his settlements and haunts; and this, in the winter time, when he is not rising upon the plains, but is ensconced in secluded retreats with his wives, children and effects for the winter. The Union adds:

"We believe it is intended, whenever practicable, to carry this policy even farther; and, in regard to the wild and unruly tribes but nominally friendly, instead of posting troops at fixed points, to remain on the watch ready to afford protection when required, to adopt the plan of requiring the troops to move as the tribes move with their families, and to be always encamped within striking distance of their settlements; so that any outbreak or outrage committed by the Indian may be punished by an immediate blow struck at the very heart of his tribe."

The Nebraska Legislature appears to be composed of a set of regular floundering backwoodsmen. On the 31st instant, the members of the Assembly having each received $40, bought a lot of champagne, and got on a regular "bender." After the liquor had been disposed of they returned to the hall to resume business, many of them so "dead drunk" that they could not sit upright on their seats. Soon a difficulty arose between the Speaker and a gentleman, which commenced by a vigorous application of a cane to the back of the Speaker and was continued for some time, during which all the members who were able, joined in the fight.

A Father Shoots his own Child.—A lamentable occurrence took place in Greenfield, Saratoga county (N. Y.) in the family of Albert Close. It appears that Mr. Close had harvested his corn, and placed it in a chamber or shed attached to the house, and on examination found that the squirrels were destroying it. He therefore procured a gun, and, having it heavily, sent his daughter, about 12 years of age, into the shed to drive out the squirrels, while he took up a position outside of the building to shoot them as they came out. In this position he fired at the squirrels, when the charge went through the clapboards, taking effect in the head and neck of the child, mortally wounding her so that she died in about twenty-four hours after the occurrence.

The coal bin of the German Reformed Church in Carlisle was broken open a short time ago, and a considerable amount of coal taken away! The Herald indignantly says:

"What, rob a church? The pitiful sounder who could perpetrate so audacious a sacrilege, will certainly be 'hauled over the coals,' if not in this world, in that which is to come."

Rev. F. N. Ewiger, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Bloomington, Ill., has recently inherited a fortune of $100,000.

A Good Idea.

The New York Tribune proposes a plan for dispensing with national nominating conventions, and letting the masses of each party choose their own candidates for President, so that there may be no more small men, such as Polks and Pierces, foisted into the White House. Each electoral body is to be pledged to cast the vote of the State for that member of their party who receives most popular votes. This would be an excellent idea, if the politicians would only let it be carried out.

The Next United States Senate.—The United States Senate, which convenes in December, 1859, and ends on the 4th of March, 1861, will be constituted politically as follows:

Northern Democrats,	8	Southern Opposition,	2
Southern Democrats,	28	Northern Opposition,	25
	36		27

The proposed reception of Mr. Douglas at Washington does not commend itself to the powers that be, and it is said that government employees are given to understand that their presence on such an occasion would be marked.

Another Candidate.—Mr. Speaker, Orr, has arrived in Washington, and has been surrounded by enthusiastic friends in the rain. It is said that Mr. Orr is in the field for the Presidential race of 1860. This, of course, accounts for the love and admiration of the patriots who happen to be in the Federal City about the time of the commencement of a session of Congress.

A Motel Official.—The people of Washington territory complain that E. C. Fitzhugh, whom Mr. Buchanan has sent there as a Judge, has murdered a peaceful citizen, goes armed with pistols, to intimidate the people, and keeps a bureau of Indian girls. There has evidently been a mistake, and Judge Fitzhugh was intended for Kansas, to assist Leecompton and Cato.

The China Completed.—The last rail has been laid on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, forming, with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, a continuous line from Philadelphia to Chicago, a distance of 840 miles, all under the management of J. Edgar Thompson.

The New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says that a new Minister to Mexico will be appointed shortly, and that the President's message will refer not unfavorably to the project of establishing a protectorate over Mexico, breached by Gen. Houston.

The majority in Michigan for the Republican State ticket, is in the neighborhood of ten thousand. A bitter result this, for Secretary Cass. Both the President and his leading Cabinet officer have been repudiated by their respective States.

Baptized in the River Jordan.—An accomplished young lady from Albemarle, Virginia, was baptized recently in the River Jordan, by Dr. James T. Barclay, missionary in Jerusalem.

New York, Nov. 23.—The Paris papers announce the death there of Hon. Benjamin F. Butler, of New York, and formerly Attorney General of the United States.—Mr. Butler sailed from this port but a few weeks ago, with his family, with the view of spending a couple of years in Europe.

The Western Fever.—If there are any of our young men who are anxious to go west and realize fortunes, let them first send for some of the newspapers of the section, and look at the probable chances of success.—At St. Paul, the grand centre, 853 is charged for the use of two coaches and a wagon to go nine miles, and the stage fare to St. Anthony, (eight miles), is $1. The people are constitutionally opposed to work, and swap tar for tar barrels, and tar barrels for tar. Land that raises four plants and two mullen stalks to the acre, sells for $100 per acre—the porkery and mullen harvest being followed by a winter eight months long.

The Atlantic Cable.

Professor Silliman, in his lecture at the Cooper Institution last night, says the New York Commercial, expresses his belief that the difficulty experienced in working the cable was owing to some defects which were caused by its exposure to the great heat of the sun while it lay coiled last year in the factory at Greenwich, England. Twenty miles of this wire were found, on examination, to be so faulty that they had to be rejected, and as other defects had since been found by Mr. Tiffany, in cutting up that portion of the cable which he purchased, he had no doubt that the difficulty was attributed to the cause he had named. He was, therefore, of opinion that the present cable would never be worked, but the surprise could not, therefore, justly be regarded as a failure, for its practicability has been fully established. The cable had been laid, the mechanical difficulties in the way of the undertaking overcome, and the line itself had been successfully worked through. When all this was accomplished, no one could doubt that the work would be again undertaken, and persevered in until a complete and final success was achieved.

During the last six months the British Squadron on the African Coast has captured nine slaves. This shows the extent to which the Slave Trade is still carried, notwithstanding the efforts to prevent it, as many, no doubt, escaped.

The Winter.

There is a general concurrence in the opinion that in the spring of 1859 business will take a start, and that before the next year is out we shall have recovered from the effect of the late prostrating panic.—An opinion, scarcely less general, anticipates that the winter now close at hand will be a severe one, especially upon those who are out of employment. During the winter of 1857-'58, which, thanks to a beneficent Providence, was unusually moderate, liberal provision was made for the poor and the unemployed. The way in which the good work was done last year was worthy of all praise. "The way to do it" again is not difficult, and the men who led in it before are still among us. Apart from the motive that prompts us to help each other, is the cheering hope that a better time is coming, that business is certain to revive early next year, and that all will share in the restoration of activity in every avocation and occupation of life. Let us, then, set about this plain and pleasing duty in good season, and with a vigorous co-operation that will cause no self-reproaching that our fellow-beings have suffered because we could have relieved them and failed to do so.

Crime Among the Mormons.

A letter writer from Camp Floyd gives a frightful picture of the condition of affairs among the Mormons. It is stated that single murders of apostates are so common, that hardly any notice is taken of them; and it is only when whole families or parties are destroyed, that much is said upon the subject. The writer adds:—

There is abundant proof of the complicity and chief agency of the murder of that large emigrant party from Arkansas last year. The goods and even cattle of the massacred are now in the hands of a noted Bishop of the church. Many other like murders and robberies are also susceptible of proof; but the Jordan, like the Sultan's harem, has been a favorite depository of dead bodies, which never yield up again, but carries them swiftly to the waters of the Great Salt Lake, from which nothing living or dead is ever recovered.

Can all this be possible? It exhibits a terrible picture, and invites a thorough investigation on the part of the General Government. Either the Mormon leaders are terribly slandered, or they are among the vilest of the vile.

Mexico.

We have stirring news from Mexico, by the way of New Orleans. Fifteen thousand Liberals under General Blanco, attacked the city of Mexico on the 15th of October, entered it, advanced to within one block of the capital, killed four hundred of Zuloaga's men, wounded a large number of others, and then retired to Tacubaya. The Liberal forces were concentrating about the city, rendering its capture inevitable. The whole republic is now in their hands, except the capital.

General Zuloaga made an imposing resistance, and lost four hundred of his soldiers, besides having a large number wounded. The loss on the part of the Liberals was comparatively small.

General Blanco held his position for a few hours, and then retired to Tacubaya, where he remained encamped at last accounts.

The city would have been completely captured by the Liberals, but the partisan within, upon whose movements depended the whole triumph, not being previously advised of the intended attack, were not prepared to render any efficient aid.

Another account says that Zuloaga had only about one thousand men, while the other had three thousand, and that with a little exertion the latter might have taken the city of Mexico.

The Liberal forces were concentrating about the capital, with a force sufficient to render its capture inevitable.

The whole republic, with the exception of the capital, is now in possession of the Liberals.

Mexico.—The recent news from Mexico is of a character calculated to cause much embarrassment to our Government. Self-respect requires that insults to our Minister, to citizens of our country, should be promptly redressed. Mexico has no Government from which satisfaction can be expected. Should a force be sent thither, it may find another party established, which will be ready to apologize, and all the trouble goes for nothing. Mr. Buchanan is likely to have his hands full shortly. If nothing better can be done, it will be an easy matter "to conquer another piece of Mexico," and that will get some glory for an Administration which sadly needs it.

Fire at Gallipolis, Ohio.—The Court House at Gallipolis, Ohio, was entirely destroyed by fire, on Suicide of Desling, the Prussian Forger.

A letter from Paducah, Ky., dated on the 10th, says:

The Prussian forger, Desling, better known as Mr. Forna, destroyed himself by blowing out his brains a few days ago, at Memphis. His wife, a jolly dancuse, was in expectation of his return to Paducah, but as soon as she heard of his death she thought of a ready consolation, and married the same day to a young fellow, one of her newest acquaintances. Desling, it will be recalled, gave the Prussian government a deal of trouble on account of a scheme of forgery which he contrived and partially executed on one of the Prussian banking houses. He fled to the United States, was pursued, eluded his pursuers until his arrival at Chicago, played an engagement at a theatre, and there also met his wife, proceeded to St. Louis, and thence to Paducah, where he was arrested. The sympathies of the people were excited in his favor; on an examination before the court it was decided that the papers did not present a case for the operation of the extradition treaty, and he was released.

A Girl Frightened to Death.

A singular case—Two young men have been indicted for manslaughter at Lancaster, England, under peculiar circumstances. It appears that on a certain evening six small girls left a factory to go home. While proceeding along a turnpike, near dark, they discovered a coffin lying across the footpath, and when they came within a few feet of it it moved, and a hollow sound came from it. The girls all screamed and fled. Shortly after they saw the two young men with the coffin on their shoulders, and from their subsequent admissions it appeared that in order to frighten the girls they had placed it in the road, tied a string to one of the handles, and concealing themselves in the bushes, uttered mournful sounds and pulled the string as they approached. One of the girls became so frightened that on the following morning she was taken ill while at work, and fell dead in a few minutes. A physician gave it as his opinion that death ensued from the rupture of the gall bladder, superinduced by the fright. The two young men were immediately arrested, indicted for manslaughter, and committed for trial.

Fortunate Escape.

We learn that a few days since, Mr. Daniel Fawcette, a son of Mr. Matthew Fawcette, of this city, made a marvelous escape from danger by his uncommon forethought and self-possession. He had been mining in a shaft about forty feet deep, and his father was raising him up by means of the windlass, when within about ten feet of the top of the shaft, the windlass, from some cause, escaped the father's hands, and the young man began to descend with frightful rapidity. At this juncture the young man spread his legs suddenly, and caught each on the side of the shaft, and in that situation suspended himself some twenty-five feet from the bottom till assistance could be rendered him, and he was lifted out.—Galena Advertiser.

Distressing Suicide.

A young man, named B. B. Ball, of Cypress, Miss., was ordered by his father to leave home, under the penalty of being whipped. The father attempted to fulfill his threat, when the young man's mother interceded in his behalf, and was struck upon the head several times by the father, which the son seeing, he resolved to die by self-destruction, rather than live and see his mother and himself imposed upon. He then took his gun, receded a few steps from the house, pulled off his shoes, and looked at his watch, giving himself half an hour for repentance. On the expiration of the half hour he blew his brains out, by pulling the trigger with his toe. The young man's untimely fate is deeply mourned by his surviving friends.

Fearful Death.—A few weeks ago a young girl, fourteen years of age, met with a fearful but instantaneous death in the City of the Bog. In the course of her work her clothes caught fire, and she ran to the rollers, where there is always running water, to put out the flames. In doing so, however, her dress was caught by the spindles, and in an instant the poor creature was dragged between the revolving rollers, and literally crushed to pieces.

A French Officer Killed by His Brother.—General Count de Salles was lately killed by a pistol shot from the hands of his half brother, the Count de Chancelles, while in a fit of mental derangement. Gen. de Salles was one of the most prominent officers of the French army, and with Gen. MacMahon, stood the next change for a marshaling. He gained his laurels in Africa and in the Crimea, having led the second division, or left wing of the army, at the final assault on Sebastopol. The general was 55 years of age. The wife of the Count de Chancelles, who is in turn about deranged by this accident, which took place under her eyes, is a daughter of the Count de Las Cases, the companion of Napoleon at St. Helena.

A Man's Fingers Blown into the Pocket of Another.—At New Village, in Warren county, Conn., on Friday last, during a celebration by the Republicans, balls, &c., were indiscriminately forced into a cannon, by the loss of which Louis Selchen, a young man about twenty-three years, had his arm so badly torn as to render amputation necessary. Some time afterwards several fingers of the injured man were found in the pocket of a by-stander.

Death from Fire.—The wife of Thomas Roper, of Hartford, Conn., was frightened to death on Wednesday night, by a fire which was near her dwelling. When the fire broke out she was standing in the sink-room, and the sudden flash of the flames upon the window of her house frightened her so that she fell dead upon the floor.

Political Ballots Mutilated.—In Illinois, by the act of February 7th, 1849, it is provided that no ballot shall be received or counted unless the same is written or printed on white paper, without any marks or figures thereon, intended to distinguish one ballot from another. At the recent election, it is stated, the four republican members of the Legislature for Chicago were elected by ballots having upon the back an engraving indicating that they were republican ballots. Their seats will, in consequence, be contested.

Earthquake and Loss of Life.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt at Valona, in Upper Albania, on the 20th of September, and was followed by several slight ones. A Turkish mosque fell in, and several villages of the neighborhood suffered greatly. On the 9th of October, at 10 A. M., another terrible shock was felt, which destroyed nearly all the houses of the villages of Vuno, Ginnara, Dremades, Pili, &c., most of them built of masonry, and dated from the fifth or sixth century. The number of victims is not yet ascertained, but many inhabitants have been missed, and many more exasperated from under the ruins have died, or are severely injured. The earthquake was preceded by a subterranean noise; next a thick smoke was seen issuing from the soil, existing darkness around, and then came the shock. Slighter shocks continued to be felt until the 12th.

Shocking Hutchery.—A letter in the New York Times from Great Salt Lake City, says:

A letter has been received at Camp Floyd from a gentleman in Los Angeles, California, detailing a tragedy which was enacted between twelve deserters from the army of Utah, who had succeeded, by Mormon assistance, in reaching California. Three of them, led by a man named Burns, who had been trumpeter in the tenth infantry, murdered the other nine for the sake of their money. Burns then proceeded at night, to cut the throats of his two accomplices. One he killed. The other survived, obtained assistance, and gave evidence which led to the arrest of Burns, who is now in confinement at Los Angeles.

Regrets Circumvented.—Three men named Dorland, father and sons, from Mansfield, Ohio, swindled two youths, named Barquet and Benham, out of a drove of cattle they had driven from Texas, worth $3,000. The cattle were sold at Chicago, and the elder Dorland decamped with the money. The sons were arrested, and as the case was likely to go hard with them, they managed to raise the $3,000, which they paid over to the Texas drovers, stipulating that they should instantly decamp for Texas, and not return in plague the rogues who cheated them. This they were willing to do, but the authorities balked that part of the arrangement, and held the drovers in $600 bonds to appear as witnesses.

The Death of a Kansas Pro-Slavery Man.—The Lawrence correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette speaks of the death of a prominent pro-slavery man in the following terms:

"The notorious border ruffian, Fred Martin White, the murderer of Frederick Brown, in the summer of 1859, was found dead near his residence, in Western Missouri, a few weeks since. He was killed by some person or persons unknown. The avenger of poor Brown has been on his track for some time, waiting for a favorable opportunity to punish him in a summary manner, and at last succeeded. White was a member of the territorial legislature in 1857, and during the session he made a speech, in which he publicly boasted, and thanked God, as a minister, that he killed the Abolitionist Brown." He was from Illinois formerly; emigrated to Kansas and joined the pro-slavery party. In 1856 Douglas sent for him to go and stump Illinois for Mr. Buchanan, which he did."

A New El Dorado.—The N. M. (Santa Fe) Gazette says: Major Stein, lately from Sonora, expresses the opinion that Sonora is more prolific of gold and silver than California; and, if a Territory of the United States, would yield ten million dollars annually. He says he has seen single lumps of gold taken from the mines there worth from $3,000 to $5,000. He likewise informed us that he has seen a 'load of silver' in bars, and all mixed with out machinery.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe Lung Affection, and that dread disease, Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost him nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription will please address: REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburgh, Long Island.
